

STAGES of SENIOR CARE

Your Step-by-Step Guide to Making the Best Decisions | by Paul and Lori Hogan

Chapter 4: Ten Questions for a Senior to Ask Herself About Aging in Place

How important is . . .

- being close to family and friends?
- staying near familiar places (stores, restaurants, entertainment)?
- cost to decisions about making a senior's home safe and comfortable?

How comfortable would I be . . .

- living in a new surrounding?

What are my plans?

- Is this a long-term destination where I plan to spend the rest of my life?
- Is this a temporary/intermediate living arrangement?

About my living choice . . .

- Has it been constructed according to universal design principles?
- If not, can it be adapted for universal design?
- How much can I afford to modify a home?
- How much am I willing to invest to make a residence aging-friendly?
